

YOUR SOULMATE READING

The vision of a face gradually appeared to me as I meditated with my eyes closed. This person has blue eyes and a warm smile. They are of medium height and slender. Their hair is light brown and their skin is fair. They seem to be a bit older than you.

Their possible zodiac sign: Taurus.

Your soulmate has certain qualities that will make you recognize them the moment you connect. They will be devoted and committed to you and will expect the same in return. Once emotionally invested, they promise loyalty for life. When they trust their partner, they give their heart fully, spending time adoring and caring deeply.

However, being a strong presence, they can sometimes be a bit possessive or jealous.

This person appears calm and composed on the surface. But when you look deeper, you'll find they are passionate about everything in their life. A beautiful mix of intellect, emotion, and philosophy. At the same time, they are very generous and enjoy living fully and luxuriously.

Because they are truly interested in you and serious about building a happy future, they will be a reliable and loyal partner. They may feel distant only when they feel unloved, ignored, or controlled. Although easily charmed, they will appreciate you for your warmth and sensitivity toward them.

They will require affection and reassurance of your love. They also expect faithfulness and loyalty. As long as they feel safe and in harmony, they will support your freedom and interests. Being reliable, caring, and understanding of their needs is the way to reach their heart and build a long-term relationship. Also, they are as emotionally demanding as they are romantic and passionate.

Beneath the composed surface, they are deeply emotional and can experience intense mood swings. They have strong self-control and may try to hide their true feelings. Your understanding and compassion will mean the world to them. They will do their best to manage their emotions because they don't want to lose you. You can trust and rely on them to act with integrity.

They bring high energy and passion into intimacy. For them, connection is emotional and powerful.

They will be drawn to you because they see in you independence, confidence, passion, sensuality, and mystery—reflections of their own nature.

To truly connect with your soulmate, you must be curious, eager to grow, confident in yourself, and emotionally open. They prefer deep emotional bonds over surface-level interactions. Fulfilling your needs and creating a spiritual or soul-level connection is part of their devotion.

This person will face the world with courage and love because they believe in you. They will love you wholeheartedly and will work to win your heart every day. Do not let go of them—they will be the most loyal and caring partner you could wish for.

I also saw several letters connected to their name: T, I, D, S. These letters may appear not only at the beginning of their name but also in a middle name or surname.

Before beginning your journey with your soulmate, I see that you still have a path to walk. Your meeting is about 6 months away. The moment will be unexpected—you will meet in a supermarket...

5 HIDDEN DESIRES OF YOUR SOULMATE

In this chapter, we will explore the five hidden desires of your soulmate—and how fulfilling them can lead to a deep, meaningful, and lasting connection. Understanding and nurturing these desires won't just attract your soulmate, but will also help you build a healthy and harmonious relationship.

Desire for Respect

Respect is the foundation of any strong relationship. Everyone, at a soul level, wants to be respected for their thoughts, choices, and efforts.

How to fulfill it:

- Value their opinions: Show genuine interest in what your soulmate thinks and feels. Ask questions, listen deeply, and remain open.
- Support their decisions: Even when you don't fully agree, stand by them with compassion. Approach differences with empathy and understanding.
- Acknowledge their efforts: Express appreciation for both the big gestures and the small actions. Recognition fosters mutual respect and trust.

Desire for Appreciation

Your soulmate wants to feel appreciated—not just for what they do, but for who they truly are. Appreciation is the heart's way of saying: I see you, I value you.

How to fulfill it:

- Compliment their qualities: Offer sincere words about their strengths, character, and achievements.
- Express gratitude: Let them know often how much their presence and energy mean to you.
- Offer affectionate gestures: A heartfelt message, a surprise hug, or a small token of love can leave a lasting impact.

Desire for Companionship

Your soulmate longs for someone to walk beside them—through joy and everyday moments alike. They want a true companion to share life's journey.

How to fulfill it:

- Share common interests: Join them in activities they enjoy, and invite them into your world too. Shared passions deepen the bond.
- Be present: Show up during both the big and quiet moments, offering steady support and joy.
- Create lasting memories: Plan experiences—trips, creative adventures, or even cozy nights—that you both will cherish.

Desire for Intimacy

True intimacy is more than physical—it's emotional safety, spiritual connection, and mutual vulnerability.

Your soulmate desires a space where they can be fully themselves.

How to fulfill it:

- Build emotional connection: Open up about your inner world and invite them to do the same.
- Nurture physical closeness: Explore what brings you both comfort and passion, ensuring a fulfilling experience.
- Allow vulnerability: Be honest, soft, and real. When you let your guard down, you create the space for theirs to fall too.

Desire to Be Needed

Your soulmate wants to know they make a difference—that their presence, support, and love have meaning in your life.

How to fulfill it:

- Ask for help and guidance: Invite their input and wisdom. It shows you value who they are and what they bring.
- Appreciate their contributions: Recognize the ways they care for you, support you, and make life brighter.
- Show healthy dependence: Let them know they matter to you, while still honoring both your independence and your shared connection.

HOW TO STAY ON THEIR MIND

Staying in your soulmate's thoughts and creating a lasting bond goes far beyond simply catching their initial attention. It's about building a meaningful and unforgettable presence in their life—one that speaks to the heart. Below are powerful, authentic attitudes you can adopt to ensure your soulmate feels your presence deeply and consistently.

Embody Confidence

Why it matters:

Confidence is magnetic. It's a quality that people remember—especially when it's genuine. Your soulmate will be drawn to someone who is secure in who they are and how they move through the world.

How to show it:

- Be authentic: Embrace your uniqueness—your strengths, your flaws, your story. Show up as your full, real self.
- Take initiative: Don't be afraid to lead, plan, or express what you want. That inner strength speaks volumes.
- Stay positive: Speak kindly of yourself and others. Confidence shines brighter through optimism and self-respect.

Show Genuine Interest

Why it matters:

Feeling seen and heard is one of the most powerful experiences in any connection. Your soulmate wants to know that who they are truly matters to you.

How to show it:

- Be curious: Ask meaningful questions about their passions, past, dreams, and experiences.
- Listen with presence: Make eye contact, respond thoughtfully, and hold space for what they share.
- Remember details: Refer back to things they've told you –it shows you care and are paying attention.

Be Surprising and Spontaneous

Why it matters:

Surprises and spontaneity add sparkle to the connection, creating excitement and lasting memories.

How to show it:

- Plan something unexpected: A thoughtful gift, a spontaneous date, or a sweet message can go a long way.
- Suggest new adventures: Be open to doing things outside the norm. It keeps your bond fresh and exciting.
- Keep some mystery: Let them discover you slowly. Leave room for curiosity and depth to unfold over time.

Cultivate Your Independence

Why it matters:

Independence shows that you are whole on your own—a complete soul looking to share, not depend. This balance is deeply attractive and respectful.

How to show it:

- Pursue your passions: Keep nurturing your interests, goals, and hobbies.
- Speak your truth: Stand firm in your values and perspectives.
- Value your time: Maintain a fulfilling life outside of the relationship. Wholeness invites wholeness.

Be Affectionate and Loving

Why it matters:

*Small gestures of love leave deep emotional imprints.
Your soulmate will treasure the ways you express care and tenderness.*

How to show it:

- Offer gentle affection: A comforting touch, a hug, or a warm smile can speak louder than words.
- Affirm with words: Let them know what they mean to you. Speak love and appreciation openly.
- Do kind things: Acts of service—from thoughtful help to small surprises—build a strong emotional foundation.

Express Intelligence and Curiosity

Why it matters:

Being able to hold meaningful, stimulating conversations creates a mental and emotional bond that goes beyond the surface.

How to show it:

- Engage in deep conversations: Explore topics that matter to both of you. Go beyond the ordinary.
- Share your knowledge: Let them see the brilliance of your mind.
- Stay curious: Show an eagerness to learn—not just about the world, but about them too.

Radiate Positivity and Joy

Why it matters:

A warm, joyful energy makes others feel good just being around you. That lightness is not only magnetic—it's unforgettable.

How to show it:

- Laugh together: Humor creates intimacy. Share jokes, be playful, and enjoy the lighter side of life.
- Celebrate the little things: Find beauty in the everyday and bring that appreciation into the connection.
- Make happy memories: Plan moments that feel good—for both of you. Fun creates connection.

By embracing these soulful attitudes, you won't just stay on your soulmate's mind—you'll stay in their heart. You'll build a strong, authentic connection rooted in mutual respect, joy, and depth. Remember, your truest power lies in being unapologetically yourself. Let your essence shine—it's what your soulmate is looking for.

PATH LIFE

In the echoes of time, where souls weave their intricate dance across lifetimes, you and your soulmate have met before. A love so profound, so destined, that the universe orchestrated your encounters time and again—ensuring that no matter the age, no matter the world, your spirits would find each other.

A Love Written in the Stars

Centuries ago, in a quiet village by the sea, your eyes met beneath the golden light of a setting sun. They were a scholar, their mind vast with knowledge, their heart filled with passion. Their eyes held the wisdom of the world, yet softened the moment they looked at you. You were a healer—your presence a sanctuary in a chaotic world, your touch soothing wounds both seen and unseen. From the moment they saw you, they knew: you were the missing piece of their existence. But fate is not always kind. A war tore them away from you, into the service of a kingdom that craved more than just land. Through every battle, they carried a locket with a strand of your hair, whispering your name in the stillness of night. Years passed, the tides of war raged, but their heart remained tethered to yours. And when they finally returned, battle-worn and weary, you were there—waiting—as if time had paused just for the two of you.

Another Lifetime, Another Chance

In another existence, during the Renaissance, you found each other again. This time, they were an artist—hands painting the essence of beauty onto canvas—and you were their muse. Your image adorned their most celebrated work, a masterpiece that would echo through history. But the world was unkind to a love like yours. Your union was deemed forbidden, for you were promised to another. And so, your love became glances stolen across crowded rooms, whispered confessions in candlelit halls, and touches that lingered longer than they should. One night, beneath the stars, you both made a vow: If not in this life, then in the next. And so, you met again.

The Era of Letters and Longing

Fast forward to the 19th century, when words carried the weight of hearts. They were a writer, pouring longing and truth into every line. You were a poet, weaving verses that spoke directly to their soul. Though oceans or circumstances kept you apart, your spirits met through ink and parchment. Each letter became a promise, each verse a revelation. Then, one day, fate intervened. You met—eyes locking, hearts recognizing. No words were needed. You had always known.

Now, in This Lifetime

The past has been filled with near-misses and fleeting connections, but this time, destiny will not waver. This time, the stars are on your side. In an ordinary moment—perhaps in a quiet supermarket aisle—you will see them again. Their eyes will hold that same warmth. Their presence will feel like home. And your soul will whisper, There you are. Though you have walked through lifetimes apart, every path has led you here. This time, you are ready. This time, love will not slip away. This time, forever begins.

Be patient. They are coming. And when they do, remember the love that has spanned centuries. Hold it close—because this is the lifetime where you finally get to stay.
